FAO - Technical Cooperation Programme

Descrição

The Technical Cooperation Programme \(TCP\) was launched in 1976 and is a part of FAO's Regular Programme, financed from the assessed contributions of its Members. The TCP is one of FAO's tools for contributing to the achievement of the UN Millennium Development Goals and particularly the goal of eradicating extreme poverty and hunger.

The Programme aims to provide FAO's technical expertise to its Member countries through targeted, short term, catalytic projects. The projects address technical problems in the field of agriculture, fisheries, forestry and rural livelihood that prevent Member countries, either individually or collectively, from implementing their development programmes.

The standard format of TCP project agreements as well as the relevant instructions for their preparation is provided in annex 2 of the TCP Guidelines for National Stakeholders.
